..When VS While ..

- When I cleaned the room, my sister was doing her homework.
Past simple Past continuous
- My sister was doing her homework when I cleaned the room.
- While my sister was doing her homework, I cleaned the room.
Past continuous Past simple
- I cleaned the room while my sister was doing her homework.

?? What VS Where ??

- We use (What) for asking about the object.

e.g. What are you doing? We are studying English.

- We use (where) for asking about place
'location'.

e.g. Where are you going? I am going to collage.

USING EXPRESSIONS OF PLACE WITH PROGRESSIVE VERBS

Page 101

- What are we doing in IUTT?
- We are studying English in IUTT university.
- Where are we studying English?
- We are in IUTT university studying English.

2-12 USING EXPRESSIONS OF PLACE WITH PROGRESSIVE VERBS

(a) — What is Kay doing?
— She's studying in her room.

(b) — Where's Kay?
— She's in her room studying.

(c) — What was Jack doing when you arrived?
— He was reading a book in bed.

(d) — Where was Jack when you arrived?
— He was in bed reading a book.

An expression of place can sometimes come between the auxiliary be and the -ing verb in a progressive tense, as in (b) and (d):

is + in her room + studying
was + in bed + reading

Page 101

In (a): The focus of both the question and the answer is on Kay's activity in progress, i.e., on what she is doing.

In (b): The focus of both the question and the answer is on Kay's location, i.e., on where Kay is.

Subject + verb to be + (verb+ing) + location

Subject + verb to be + location + (verb+ing)

→ What

→ Where

□ EXERCISE 24. Using expressions of place with progressive verbs. (Chart 2-12)

PART I. Use the given verbs and expressions of place to complete the dialogues. Use usual word order if the focus is on an activity in progress. Use inverted word order if the focus is on the person's location.

1. listen to music \ in her room

A: Where's Sally?

B: She's in her room listening to music.

2. listen to music \ in the living room

A: What's Surasuk doing?

B: He's listening to music in the living room.

3. watch TV \ in his bedroom

A: Where was Jack when you got home?

B: He was In his bedroom watching TV

4. watch TV \ in his bedroom

An email explaining a problem

From: Jameela Lee
To: Professor Kim Hart
Subject: Absence from class for two weeks
Attached: doctor's_certificate.pdf

Dear Professor Hart,

I'm writing to let you know that I can't attend class for two weeks as I've had an accident and hurt my back. I'm afraid I also need to ask for an extension for next week's essay.

I have medicine for the pain but I can't get up or walk around much, and the doctor said I should stay in bed and rest as much as possible. This makes reading and studying very difficult for me at the moment. I've attached a copy of the doctor's certificate and I hope to be back in class from 12 May.

Until then, my friend is going to record the lectures so I can listen to them at home. I will try to catch up with all the reading too. However, I don't think I can submit the essay next week. Is it possible to have an extension?

Thank you for your understanding.

Regards,
Jameela

Digital world

Digital describes electronic technology that generates, stores, and processes data in terms of two states: positive and non-positive.

Digital citizenship refers to the responsible use of technology by anyone who uses computers, Internet, and digital devices to engage with society on any level.

Digital Citizenship

refers to the ability to participate in online activities safely, responsibly, and ethically.

This idea of digital citizenship promotes a positive online environment and encourages you to use the internet to benefit yourself and society.

Is computer important in our lives?

Can you live without computers?

What is the meaning of digital generation?

□ Reading section (unit 1): living with computers ...page 26

A Computers: friend ...

People who have grown up with PCs and microchips are often called the digital generation. This is how some people answered when questioned about the use of computers in their lives.

'I have a GPS, Global Positioning System, fitted in my car. With this navigation system I never get lost. And the DVD recorder is perfect for my children's entertainment.'

'I use an interactive whiteboard, like a large touchscreen monitor, at school. I find computers very useful in education.'

'Assistive technology, for people with disabilities, has helped me a lot. I can hardly see, so I use a screen reader, a program that reads aloud onscreen text, menus and icons.'

'This new HMD, head-mounted display, allows me to watch films, and enjoy virtual reality, the artificial environment of the latest video games.'

'The upgraded wireless network at my university is great: we can connect our laptops, PDAs and Wi-Fi cell phones to the network anywhere in the campus. Communication is becoming easier and easier.'

... or foe?

- Our society has developed technological dependence. When computers are down, our way of life breaks down: planes stop flying, telephones don't work, banks have to close.
- Computers produce electronic waste, plastic cases and microchips that are not biodegradable and have to be recycled or just thrown away.
- They are responsible for health problems, e.g. computer addiction, an inappropriate and excessive use of computers.
- Cybercrime, crime committed with the help of computers, is creating serious problems.
- Citizens may feel a loss of privacy because of unauthorized use of personal data or receiving unwanted electronic messages.

Things we can do on the computer

A publication

A business graph

Web pages and email

Photo editing

A secretary: 'I use computers to do the usual office things like write letters and faxes, but what I find really useful is email. We are an international company and I send emails to our offices all over the world.'

A publisher: 'We use PCs to produce all sorts of texts in digital format. We publish e-books (electronic books) and interactive e-learning programs on CD, and we help a local company to design an online newspaper, displayed on the Web.'

A bank manager: 'We use financial software to make calculations and then generate graphs or charts. We also use a database to store information so that it can be easily searched.'

A home user: 'I like to retouch photos on my computer; I improve them by making a few touches and then save them on a CD. I also enjoy looking at music portals on the Web. I surf the Web every day and I often download files, I copy music files from the Net to my PC.'
